Palm Sunday Ushers in Holy Week REV. MULLALY HEAD Easter Days PASSION OF CHRIST IN SONG AND STORY Good Friday Closes Days of Lent

Bishop Harding Confirms Classes at St. Margaret's and Epiphany—Many Protestant Churches Hold Special Services.

Special Services.

Palm Sunday marked not the beginning but the ending of the period in the church calendar known as Passion Week. The days which follow are known as Holy Week and will be given up to meditation, prayer and fasting, with emphasis upon the special leasons of the last week in life of Christ, culiminating with Good Friday and its rolemn bours of devotion. Following Holy Saturday, the season of Lent will conclude in the Easter feetival of Joy.

Yesterday was a fair day, fortunately maybe of the fact that Palm Sunday fell this year in the middle of March. It was the first time in over a hundred years that Palm Sunday has preceded years that Palm Sunday has preceded St. Patricks Day. And it is said that more than ninety years must pass before this unusual arrangement of the church calendar will be repeated. In the Greek church, which follows the eld Julian calendar rather than the Gregorian, Palm Sunday will not be observed for thirty-four days. Their Easter will fall on April 27.

The Roman Catholic Churches begin the week with the consecration of the palma in memory of Christ's entrance and into Jerusalem for the last time. Other features of the opening observance and incompleted limpressively and in the expectation of the palma in memory and the meaning on the pract ascriftice are vividly tauch. Protestant Churches other than Episcopal and Lutheran, that have entered on the observance of Holy Week in the last year or two report large attendances and increased interest. It is believed that he week is gradually taking the place of the first week of January, for many carn called "the week of prayer," and observed as an opportunity for the hurches to gain a new start for the car. The railying time appears to be difficult to the opening of spring and floly Week. The interest that culminity in the community is said to be ob-is said, to the great and conserved, it is said, to the great advantage of the churches. Another religious gain to the churches and the community is said to be observed in the community in said to be observed in the same time in practically the same time same time in practically the same time and the community in directing attention to the events of the week in which Christ sent to his cross.

Many Protestant Churches are to have communion services on Thursday night, in remembrance of that night when herta and the spostise Instituted the lord a Supper. This is a development of very recent years, in the thought of base there are sent set in the thought of base there are sent sent to the choice have been reparation of basers funday following. Elaborate nuisical geogrammes have one prepared for many congressions, and the choirs have been racticing for samy days. Not only has music been elections as part of the services.
